Three models to improve productivity, client care and timely documentation

Learn how to make productivity and documentation work together in this three section interactive training.

- ✦ Square Model (Section I) - Teaches you how to use The Square Model with treatment planning and documentation. This model can be used to train staff and audit charts.
- ✦ Concurrent Notes (Section II) – Demonstrates how to accurately document progress notes in a timely manner, while collaborating with the client on developing strategies for their treatment.
- ✦ ABC Model (Section III) – Teaches how to maximize productivity and client services. This section explains how this model can be applied to your program.
